Ohio State Highway Patrol Promotes School Bus Safety Ahead of New School Year

August 06, 2025

COLUMBUS - As students across the state prepare to head back to the classroom over the coming weeks, the Ohio State Highway Patrol (OSHP) is asking drivers to protect our kids by sharing the roadway with school buses and adhering to traffic laws.

Since 2020, a total of 6,225 crashes involving a school bus have been reported in Ohio, five of which were fatal. Those five fatal crashes resulted in the deaths of five individuals, with one being a school-aged student.

“While school buses are considered the safest mode of transportation for students, their safety depends heavily on every driver remaining vigilant while behind the wheel,” said Governor Mike DeWine, who recently signed a bill creating a new school bus safety grant program to help schools upgrade or add safety features to buses. “There is nothing more important than our kids, and it’s our shared responsibility to keep them safe.”

It’s crucial for all drivers to familiarize themselves on traffic laws concerning stopped school buses. Understanding these laws isn’t just about avoiding a ticket, it’s about protecting the lives of students getting on and off the bus. Some of those laws include the following:

- When a school bus is stopped with its red lights flashing and stop arm extended, all vehicles traveling in both directions must come to a complete stop at least 10 feet from the bus. This applies to two-lane roads and roads with a center turning lane.
- On roads with four or more lanes, or divided highways, only traffic traveling in the same direction as the bus is required to stop. Oncoming traffic may proceed with caution.
- Motorists must remain stopped until the bus resumes motion or the bus driver signals that it is safe to proceed.

In addition to enforcing the laws previously mentioned, the Patrol is tasked with ensuring school buses are safe before they leave the garage. As part of the OSHP’s commitment to school bus safety, school districts are required to get each bus inspected twice a year. These inspections guarantee all buses meet the state’s high safety standards.

“The commitment our personnel put into inspecting each school bus is truly remarkable,” said Charles A. Jones, Patrol superintendent. “Their attention to detail directly contributes to preventing crashes and ensuring students have a safe way to get to and from school, and school-related events.”

One of the two yearly mandatory school bus inspections must be completed before the start of the school year, and the second is done at random. Since 2020, Patrol personnel have performed nearly 195,000 inspections.

The public is encouraged to safely call #677 to report reckless or impaired drivers and drug activity.

*Stormwater
Awareness Week is October 1-7!*

Stormwater Awareness Week has grown into a statewide effort that encourages communities, and the groups that care about them to raise awareness of how rainwater moves through infrastructure and our environment and take action to prevent stormwater pollution. Ohio Stormwater Awareness Week will be taking place October 1-7, and to celebrate we will be working with partners to promote fun and educational events throughout the week. Learn more at franklinswcd.org/stormwater-week.

Example actions might include (but are not limited to):

Participate in community or neighborhood clean-ups. Plant native trees & plants. Adopt a storm drain! Rake and sweep around it regularly. Construct or replant and maintain a rain garden. Mulch leaves on your grass to help soil conditions. Ask a local business to become a Water Quality Partner. Properly dispose of chemicals and hazardous waste. Don't Drip & Drive-Fix car leaks. Always pick up and throw away pet waste. Reduce winter salt usage.

Stormwater Awareness Week Featured Practice: Use Your Rain Barrel Through Fall for More Than Just Gardening!

Plenty of folks use rain barrels to water their gardens. But don't be afraid to think outside the barrel to discover new uses for captured rainwater! Just remember rainwater is not drinkable as it can contain trace heavy metals and bacteria from asphalt shingles and bird droppings on your roof, respectively! Keeping that in mind you can still use rain barrel water for:

- Watering houseplants. Cleaning gardening tools.
- Washing your car (In the grass, to prevent soapy runoff from washing into streams via the storm drain!)
- Filling bird baths and small ponds. Keeping compost moist. Extinguishing bonfires.
